

Stonecraft Group Unveils PGA-Standard "Stonecraft Golf City" in Hyderabad, Featuring Biophilic Design and Miyawaki Forest

Hyderabad, Oct 2024: Stonecraft Group, a pioneer in biophilic real estate development, has partnered with AIVOT Golf & Sports Management and the PGA of America to launch South India's first PGA-standard golf facility, "Stonecraft Golf City," in Hyderabad. Spanning over 200 acres, this 18-hole championship course will be the first of its kind in the region, setting a new benchmark for golf in India.

The unique project will be the only golf facility in the world to feature a biophilic design, incorporating the Miyawaki forest technique, which harmonizes with Hyderabad's iconic natural landscape, including its boulders and water bodies. The development will also offer luxurious amenities, including a state-of-the-art clubhouse, dining options, and a PGA golf academy.

Kirthi Chilukuri, CEO &

Managing Director of Stonecraft Group, said, "This project will position Hyderabad as a premier destination for sports and tourism, driving economic growth while adhering to sustainable practices." With PGA of America branding and a commitment to eco-friendly development, "Stonecraft Golf City" is set to attract global attention and inspire a new generation of golfers.
